3.	If the answer to the above is yes, then for OCES programme of 2009, they have taken candidates with bond period of 3 years after the training stipulated in training institutes stipulated in the OCES advertisement. So if a candidate after successful completion of training joins service and leaves the establishment after six months/one year/two year, then indicate the procedure followed in (a) NPCIL, (b) DAE other public sector enterprises to enforce the bond amount. The bond amount is taken on pro rata basis for the balance period or the maximum amount is taken, have to be clarified with reasons for the same.	No such information is available.

5. Although the DPE OM does not apply as such on DAE establishments, then indicate the process followed to Enforcement of bond on candidates joining service after completion of OCES 2009 training. For OCES programme of 2009, department have taken candidates with bond period of 3 years after the training stipulated in training institutes stipulated in the OCES advertisement. So if a candidates after successful completion of training joins service and leaves the establishment after six months/one year/two year, then indicate the procedure followed in DAE establishments other than public sector enterprises to enforce the bond amount. The bond amount is taken on pro rata basis for the balance period or the maximum amount is taken, have to be clarified with reasons for the same.	As far as OCES is concerned, entering into the Bond is already specified in the OCES advertisement of BARC, Mumbai available in the weblink: https://www.barc.gov.in/careers/recruitment.html It is clearly mentioned in the advt. that the selected candidates are required to execute an Agreement and a personal Indemnity Bond to serve DAE for atleast three years after completion of training. The applicant is also apprised that a citizen's right extends only to seeking information as defined in Section 2(f) of the RTI Act, either by pinpointing the file, document, paper or records etc. specifically by mentioning the type of information as may be available with the specified public authority. CPIO can provide information which exists in material form and not expected to give any reasons, clarifications or reply to hypothetical / interrogative questions.
